

BIVOUAC TRAINING

42nd Annual County Bivouac Event 2018 BIVOUAC TRAINING AWARD

It's getting dark and it's starting to rain. You've been separated from your group and you're hopelessly lost. It looks like you're going to have to spend the night in the open. With only the equipment in your rucksack and the countryside around you, would you know how to survive?

With the introduction of the Bivouac Training Award in 2004, this activity aims to give Scouts and Explorer Scouts the knowledge that will help them in such a scenario. The BIVOUAC TRAINING AWARD is unique to Birmingham Scouting and has been designed to give candidates the high level of skills that are needed to pass the Bivouac Award, Survival Skills Activity Badge and Emergency Aid Stage 3 Activity Badge.

You will receive training on many subjects, including shelter building, fire lighting, knife safety, food hygiene, edible plants, cooking without utensils, survival tins, overnight safety & survival bag use, basic first aid, personal hygiene, gadget & utensils, water collection & purification, tree identifications, direction finding, distress signals and knife care & sharpening.

Most training is given in patrol-sized groups. All who apply to take part must understand after having received training on how to make a shelter, will then be expected to construct their own and sleep in it overnight.

A list of food will also be provided nearer the event, containing unprocessed food that could be found in the United Kingdom and that would be available to you in a survival situation. No processed food is allowed.

Further information on the Bivouac Activity and many downloads can be found on our website at www.birminghamscouts.org.uk/bivouac
